

SAYREVILLE TAG PROGRAM

PROGRAMMING SERVICES FOR GT STUDENTS,
GRADES 3-8

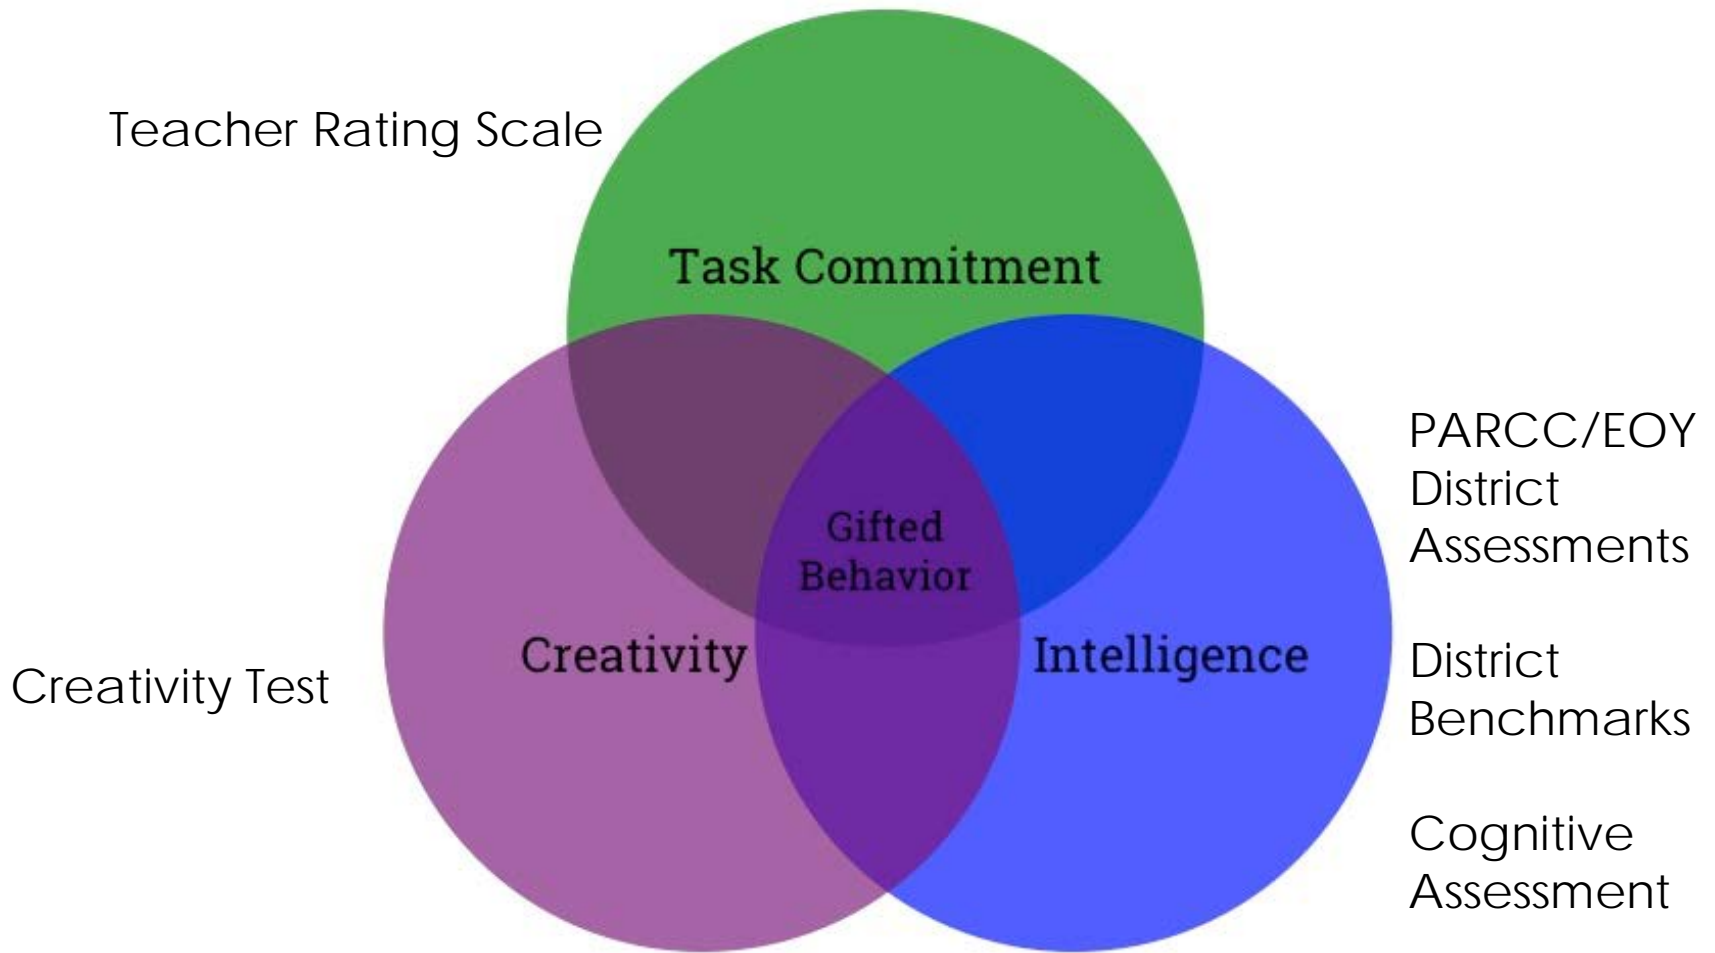

Presenter:
Dr. Marilyn Shediack

CHANGE IN ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

Past Practice: Students were identified using a “filter”. The prerequisite for eligibility in the TAG program was a benchmark score on an EOY assessment. Students who attained the required score were then further evaluated via parent and teacher rating scales, a creativity test, and a reasoning assessment.

Starting in September 2016: As per the NJDOE, “district boards of education shall make provisions for an ongoing K-12 identification process for gifted and talented students that includes multiple measures.” The identification process will now begin with teacher, parent, and/or self nomination. Five measures will be considered:

- PARCC scores
- District benchmark scores
- Creativity assessment scores
- Teacher rating scales
- Cognitive assessment

RENZULLI'S 3-RING MODEL

NEW JERSEY DEFINITION

The regulations define gifted and talented students as:

Those students who possess or demonstrate high levels of ability, in one or more content areas, when compared to their chronological peers in the local district and who require modification of their educational program if they are to achieve in accordance with their capabilities.

Talented and Gifted Identification Procedure

Parent/Teacher/Self Nomination
(PDF forms available on website)

Available student data is collected (PARCC and Benchmarks)

Additional testing for nominated students in June and September
(Cognitive, Creativity, and Teacher Ratings)

50-point identification matrix is used to determine top 10%
of students in each grade level

Talented and Gifted Identification Procedure (Continued)

If student is identified, parents will receive letter of notification.

TAG teacher notifies principal and classroom teachers of placements.

If placed, students attend weekly TAG classes.

If student is not identified, parents will receive letter of notification.

If not placed, procedure ends. Students may be nominated again the following year.

ANSWERS TO F.A.Q.

HOW ARE STUDENTS IDENTIFIED AS GIFTED AND TALENTED?

- In the state of New Jersey, there are no state-mandated criteria. However, local school districts must use multiple measures to evaluate students.

WHAT IS MEANT BY “MULTIPLE MEASURES” AND WHY ARE THEY IMPORTANT?

- Multiple measures are different evaluative tools (such as test scores, work samples, and rating scales) that can be used to see a child’s potential giftedness. It is important to use multiple measures, rather than a single test score, because doing so provides a better picture of the child’s areas of strength. The use of multiple measures also provides more than one avenue for children who do not typically perform well on academic achievement tests.

ANSWERS TO F.A.Q.

WILL PARTICIPATION IN ANOTHER STATE OR DISTRICT'S GT PROGRAM QUALIFY A CHILD FOR TAG IN SAYREVILLE?

- Because each district's identification criteria are different, and students are compared to their peers within the district, an out-of-district evaluation will not be honored. However, students new to the district may be reevaluated using the district criteria.

WHAT KINDS OF SERVICES ARE PROVIDED TO GIFTED STUDENTS WITHIN THE DISTRICT?

- Our district provides push-in enrichment lessons for all students in grades 2 and 3. A pull-out program is provided for identified third through eighth graders. At the high school level, students may choose to pursue their interests and/or strengths through various accelerated course offerings.

ANSWERS TO F.A.Q.

WHAT DOES THE TERM "TWICE EXCEPTIONAL" MEAN?

- Students who are twice exceptional may have learning disabilities that mask their giftedness. These students may receive both special education services and gifted programming as a part of their curriculum.

MUST A GIFTED CHILD EARN GOOD GRADES?

- While school performance is one indicator of a child's abilities, there are many gifted children who underachieve. Poor grades and giftedness are not mutually exclusive. However, to remain in the district TAG program, students must fulfill all regular classroom responsibilities and complete all assignments.
